Changes in Student Services

Did you know that once-upon-a-time Ohio State at Lima had a school yearbook and proms with Kings & Queens? (And was called, "The Branch"). Now we serve the needs of returning adults with jobs, children, and mortgages, and of traditional aged students and even of high school honors students in the Academy program. (And we are "The Ohio State University at Lima.") In an effort to provide the increased variety of services our students now need, the Student Services area has been reorganized under the capable leadership of Dr. Garlene Penn. The group Dr. Penn coordinates will include Admissions, Advising, Records and Registration, Student Activities, the athletic program, disability services, and a new effort to coordinate adult services, including career planning. Dr. Penn will continue to provide direct services in admissions as in the past. Dr. Carol Fasig will continue to direct our Continuing Education efforts in addition to developing the adult services area. All the faces will be the same but you may see them trying on new hats this year as all of the student affairs professionals look for new and creative ways to enhance the total university experience for our students, prospective students, and alumni.

OSU-Lima Featured Fund to Give Professional Development Scholarships

The OSU-Lima Faculty/Staff Development Fund, our featured fund in the 1994 Campus Campaign, started out with $3955 in the kitty. Donations from faculty and staff have increased it to an impressive $6118. "We may not have reached our endowed fund goal of $15,000," says Carla Churchill, director of development and alumni affairs, "but we're well on our way to making this a significant source of professional development and employee training dollars on the Lima campus." While we build the fund, we will offer two $100 OSU-Lima Faculty/Staff Development scholarships annually, through the fund's pool of accumulated interest. Any full-time OSU-Lima employee is eligible to apply. All you need is to have an upcoming workshop, conference or training program in mind and complete a simple application form. Applications will be available and accepted from February 15 through April 15, 1995. Awards will be announced during the 1995 Campus Campaign in May. The Development Office will appoint a review committee representing all employees on campus.

Staff member, Melinda Talbot, winner of the 1994 Campus Campaign Development Scholarship just returned from the National Association of Campus Activities Great Lakes Regional Conference. She discovered exciting new entertainment options for student programming and learned of interesting student activities offered on other campuses throughout the region. Watch for the results!

They're Back!

You may have caught the series in the Lima News of the travels of Dean Violet Meek and a delegation of students, friends and alumni of OSU Lima.

It was an exciting 12-day tour of St. Petersburg, Russia with three days in Helsinki, Finland. The trip was timed to coincide with the opening of The Anisfeld Exhibit, curated by Dr. Joe Brandesky, associate professor of theatre at OSU Lima. This opening was a great success and Dr. Brandesky will be returning over Thanksgiving. We are looking forward to a firsthand account.

The St. Petersburg entourage had many exciting experiences with a great many photos and videos taken. Should provide some interesting and colorful travelogues in the next few months.

It took a great deal of work and effort to make this trip such a success. Northwestern Travel's Jan Laibe, an OSU Lima alum, went above and beyond the call to provide a great time.

The Lima News brought the trip to life for those of us not able to make the trip.

Thanks to All!

The National Tapestry Invitational Exhibition at ArtSpace/Lima, 65 W. Town Square, Lima, Ohio (419) 222-1721. Twenty eight national, award-winning tapestry artists from coast to coast are participating in this event through November 28. The exhibition is being curated by Letitia (Letty) K. Roller, art department faculty member and lecturer at OSU Lima. She has brought together an amazing collection of vibrant colors, textures and styles. "Tapestry is not a medium that lends itself easily to realism or the creating of any image. Still there are a number of wonderful and stirring images in this exhibit," says Bart Mills of The Lima News.

The living outdoor sculpture created by Visiting Artist Jedrej Stepak from Poland is complete. This sculpture is entirely made up of native Ohio willow. It is also the first of its kind in the USA and we have it right here on the Lima campus. Be sure to stroll by and watch its features evolve through the changing seasons!

United Way Poster-Person Q. Dookie (Assoc. Prof., Agronomy) urges all his OSU-Lima friends to support this year's campaign. "We're at 83% of our OSU-Lima goal," says The Dook. "Let's go for 100%!"

Veronica Invites You

Give generously to United Way

OSU Lima's United Way Campaign runs now through November 18. The goal this year for Ohio State is $11,300 (a 10% increase over last year) and we are presently at 83% of that goal with $9,394 pledged. Participation goal is 70% and we have achieved 53% of that figure. Last year we raised $10,273 from 76 contributors.

Our average gift was $135. Did you know you can contribute as little as $1 per pay period through payroll deduction. If you are not on payroll deduction please consider doing so this year. In 1993 the range of payroll deduction amounts was $26 to $1500. So pick the amount that is comfortable for you and your family and please contribute through the automatic deduction system. Call David Adams at ext. 285.

Andy Geiger at Alumni Meeting

149 alumni and friends of OSU turned out to hear Andy Geiger speak on October 5, 1994. Geiger is in his first year as Director of Athletics at The Ohio State University. The event raised $430 for the OSU Lima Alumni Circle.
